"Telegraph to The Times.
PARIS, March 13. - [By Cable and As ociated Press. | A tremendous crowd gathered in the Chamber of L'oputies today, anticipating a Cabinet crisis. The Boulangist and Royalist attack upon the government was delayed until the return of M. Bourgeois, ex-Minister of Justice, from Court. As soon as he appeared, Armand Despres, Republican Deputy for Seine, made the interpella-tion of which he had already given notice concerning the government's knowledge of the Soinoury interview with Mme. Cottu. Godfrey Caivagnac (Republican) also spoke in support of the interpellation. Then M. Bourgeois, pale, though self-possessed, walked to the Speaker's tribune. He began huskily, but quickly clearing his throat, shouted: "Those charges are absolutely false; I have appeared before the court and answered every-I now have a right to hold up my head. There is nobody to gainsay it." After the applause and cheers had subsided Bourgeois repeated the statement he had made in court.

M. Ribot said Bourgeois had vindi-cated his own honor. He, himself, would now yindicate the honor of his country. He said: "The story told by Mme. Cottu, if not false, was distorted. Loubet had told the Premier that Soinoury had been requested by an interme diary to grant an interview to Mme. Cottu. Soinoury understood Mme Cottu wished merely to ask that sh might be allowed to see her husband. Loubet authorized Soinoury to receive her, supposing she had no other busi-ness in view than arranging to visit Cottu. Recently Mme. Cottu requested that she be allowed to have an interview with the Prefect of Police. Was this another subterfuge? Did this upon yourseif!"

Ribet waited patiently until the dismiss in no duty.

After a lengthy and heated debate, Gustave Rivet (Republican) moved that the Chamber, in its determination to let justice take its course and bring the truth to light, approve the declaration of the Ministry. This action was accepted by Ribot and passed—297 to 228.

dered that Bourgeois, late Minister of Justice, be summoned to testify.

GOLIARD TESTIFIES. M. Goliard testified today that he knew the secretary of Henri Cottu, and it was at the initiative of the secretary that he saw Police Commissary Nicoll with a view to effecting an arrangement with a view to effecting an arrangement between the government and the Pan-ama directory. This interview led to a discussion which took place between Mmc. Cottn and M. Soinoury, chief of the detective department. The witness said he acted entirely on his own re-sponsibility in bringing about the inter-

Charles de Lesseps here arose and in a bold manner, in tones that rang through the room, said; "M. Bourgeois attacked me'a little while ago, Well, monsieur, here I am, face to face with you, what have you to say to me?"

De Lesseps folded his arms and looked denantly at Bourgeois, while a violent uproar in the audience greeted this sudden ebullition on the part of the leading defendant, whose conduct up to this time has been at least within the rules of orderly procedure.

Judge Desjardines indignantly spoke up: "I cannot," he said, "allow these dialogues. The law must be recognized by all."
The audience calmed down, and Bourgeois proceeded to reply in deliberate language to M. Barboux He said the affair was the result of a maneuver, the authors of which he does not know.

With this M. Bourgeois retired from the witness stand, and Mme. Cottu was recalled. She declared Goliard told her he would go and see Bourgeois in regard to her.

M. Goliard followed Mme. Cottn or the stand and confirmed her statement to the effect that he had told her he would see Bourgeois, but added: "No-body authorized me to say so."

M. Bourgeois arose and exclaimed,
"If anyone knows that I acted contrary to the dictates of honor, let his speak." At this the uproar in the audience was renewed, many taking part with Bour-geois and others with his accusers. When the hearing was resumed Soinoury was recalled. He made a long statement to the effect that neither Bourgeois nor any other minister was in any way responsible for his inter-view with Mme. Cottu. He himself originated the idea of a conference with her. The charges that he threat-ened Mme. Cottu or promised her any favor in return for any information she

ANN ARBOR STRIKE The Court Issues an Order to the Engl-

Tolepo, March 18.—[By the Associ ated Press.] A new complication oc-curred on the Toledo and Ann Arbor strike this morning, which was occasioned by an order issued from the United States District Court at Cleveland directing all connecting roads to continue to receive freight from the Ann Arbor road regardless of the fact whether it was handled by non-union men or not. Chief Arthur hurried over from Cleveland to look over the situation. The order makes it very awkward for him. If he orders a general refusal by the brotherhood men on connecting roads to haul Ann Arbor freight, he lays himself liable to being hauled up for contempt of court. He called the local committee on adjustment together, and after a long se-cret session decided to make overtures to the Ann Arbor road for an adjustment of differences. The conference with the officials will take place this afternoon, and it is believed trouble will be settled.

CHICAGO SWITCHMEN WILL NOT STRIKE. CHICAGO, March 13.-It is certain now that the Chicago switchmen will not go out on strike, they having re turned an answer to the general mana-gers today. The switchmen were some-what astonished by the array of public sentiment against any strike at this time, almost every paper in the city having declared that the attempt savored too much of an attempt at extortion because of the immense amount of traffic incident to the World's Fair. Be sides this, the general managers were so well prepared for the strike that there was but a small chance of the men being successful, and the switch men were smart enough to read the signs of the times, and see that they really had but a small chance of winning the fight.

Mary Montgomery's Death CHICAGO, March 13 .- The Coroner's jury in the case of Mary Montgomery the servant girl murdered Wednesday returned a verdict this eyening, finding that the girl came to her death from suffocation, and from the evidence the urors believed it was at the hands of Carrie Henderson, while attempting a criminal operation. The Henderson woman is a negress who was employed in the house at the time as nurse.

BURKSVILLE (Ky.,) March 13.—On Saturday night robbers entered the house of Thomas Bryant on Leatherwood Creek; knowing that he kept his savings in the house, gagged the family and tortured Bryant by burning him with hot stones, and finally put his feet in the fire. He then revealed the hid ing place of $1800, which they secured and escaped on horses from Bryant's stable. Bryant will die.

THE ASSEMBLY HAS REFUSED TO RECONSIDER THE CAPITAL AMENDMENT.

San Jose Has Won and Sacramento Lost.

The Assembly Refuses to Reconsider the Capital Matter.

Garden City Men Paint the Town Bright Vermillion.

The Amendment Will Go to the Peopl to Be Voted Upon-Comments from Many State Newspapers-San Jose's Joy.

SACRAMENTO, March 13.—[Special.] Sacramento is in the dumps and San José correspondingly elated. The representative citizens of the future Capital City are painting the staid old city of railroad shops and levees a luminous vermillion tonight. Exactly at 10 o'clock tonight a last attempt, was made. It was on a motion to take from the table the motion to reconsider, and was lost by the decisive vote of 52 to 18. With a shout the San José solid men, who have stood all day in the lobby, trooped out of the halls into the streets and made the old building ring with huzzahs of joy. RECONSIDERATION MOVED. Just before noon today Mr. Lynch of San Bernardino moved the reconsideration of the vote whereby the Assem bly adopted the constitutional amendment to submit to the people the question of the removal of the capital to San José. Mr. Lynch then again gained the floor, and followed his first motion with another to lay it on the table, thus killing reconsideration at that time. Mr. Mordecai of Fresno retorted that Mr. Lynch's actions were unjust and indecent, and that it was taking snap judgment. At this juncture Mr. Anderson of Sacramento moved to take a recess until 2 o'clock, which

During the noon hour there were many rumors of boodle being used by Sacramento in trying to influence the final vote in the House. One rumor said that $20,000 was ready for the members of the House if they would vote "right." But it was useless. I do not think five times that amount would have changed the inevitable result. What had started in as a joke had become a sober, serious fact; so that at the opening of the afternoon session, when Mr. Lynch's motion was again taken up, it was carried by a vote of 58 to 16. Tonight the matter was again taken up, with the result as stated above.

This finally decides the question. Sacramento has lost and San Jose won. There can be no more reconsidation. The question now goes to the people.

the The House tonight defeated Teachers' Pension Bill, after a hard struggle, in which Mr. Simpson of Los Angeles led the fight against the would be pensioners.

ANOTHER SURPRISE. The Senate tonight passed, by a unanmous vote, the Seawell Reassessment Bill, which calls for all back taxes from 1879. This is the measure adopted in the House a few days ago in lieu of the Carpenter substitute. It is said that orders were received late this afternoon from Fourth and Townsend streets to stand in, as the Southern Pacific wanted to settle this matter once and for all. Mr. Carpenter made an hour's argument in defense of, the railroad's back-down, in which he said that there were no taxes due from 1879 to 1882.

THE RAILROAD WAS WILLING, he said, to pay from 1882, but as the Assembly had seen fit to go back to 1879, he would himself move a concurrence in the House amendment. This announcement was received with cheers in the lobbies and galleries, and when the vote was taken and it was seen that the railroad Senators, following the lead of Carpenter, voted with the antimonopolists, the cheers were deafening. The result, as annnunced, was 39 for the Seawell Reassessment Bill, and none against. LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS.

The Capital Amendment Refused Reco

SACRAMENTO, March 13.— By the Associated Press.] Assembly.—This morning a telegraphic message was received by Speaker Gould from the City Council of San José guaranteeing a bonus of $1,000,000 and a ten-acre that city.

Mr. Anderson presented the resolutions adopted in the mass meeting by the citizens of Sacramento denouncing the articles which appeared in the Evening Bee referring to the Legislature, and declaring that such articles by no means voiced the sentiment of the people of Sacramento.

The lobby and the gallery of the As-site if the State capital be located in sembly chainber were packed this morning with people who went to the Capitol, hoping that the reconsideration of the vote whereby Mr. Seymour's resolution to remove the capital to San José was adopted, would be brought up. There was a slim attendance this morno'clock. No attempt was made to bring up the matter on this account.

and moved to lay his own motion on Mr. Anderson moved to postpone it until after recess, which was finally done.

Among the bills passed were: Senate bill taxing collateral inheritances. Assembly bill confirming to the city of Oakland the right of possession and control of its waterfront and tide lands. The bill providing for the redemption of unused transportation tickets by railroads came up for consideration. The amendment fixing the penalty on railroad companies for refusing to redeem the tickets was adopted, and the bill made the special order for tomorrow.

Long before 2 o'clock, the hour for reconvening, the lobby and galleries were packed to the doorsl. As the gavel sounded, Mr. Mordecai gained the ear of the House above the din and moved to indefinitely postpone the motion to lay consideration of the capital resolution on the table. Mr. Shanahan claimed that it was not in order to postpone a motion to lay on the table. The yeas and nays were called for, resulting in 58 votes to lay on the table to 16 to reconsider. The following is the way the Assemblymen voted on the capital question: blymen voted on the capital question:

This practically kills the reconsideration, and Mr. Seymour's resolution to move the State capital to San José has passed beyond recall. The vote was announced. A roar of cheers arose from the friends of San José and the business of the House could not be resumed until the Chair ordered the lobby cleared. It took but ten minutes to de all this. The regular file was then taken up.

A row ensued as to which urgency bill should be given the precedence. At no time were there less than a dozen Assemblymen on their feet, shouting at the top of their lungs to get their respective pet bils up for consideration. The gavel could not be heard. The efforts of the sergeant-at-arms to restore order were futile, and pandemo-nium reigned for half an hour. At the end of this time the clerk's voice could be heard reading the bill to pay the claim of Henry Hogan, which was finally passed.

The County Government Bill came up

Mr. Hart's Senate bill to retire teachers on partial pay came up. The bill was finally passed by a vote of 87

The Bidwell County Bill was defeated by a vote of 37 to 33.

A last effort was made to get the resolution to move the capital from the table by a motion made by Mordecai. It was discovered that the bill had been sent to the Senate and a wrangle ensued on some fine points of parliamentary law. A vote was taken and the motion defeated by 52 to 13.

Editorial Advice to the Members of the Legislature.

SACRAMENTO, March 18.—[By the Associated Press. The way Sacramento takes the passage by the Legislature of the resolution to remove the capital can only be compared to the way a man takes the sudden amputation of an arm and still feels for things with imaginary ringers. Sacramento does not realiza as yet, so sudden has been the blow, that four years from now the State capital may be situated at the Garden up the matter on this account.

GOOD BY, CAPITAL!

Everyone realizes that the transfer of the capital to San José would mean a great loss to the business interests of deramento, to say nothing of the loss of prestige which such a move would ause. With the capital will go the State Printing Office, State Fair and all State officers now having head-quarters in the State building, and a realization of these facts is causing an air of dejection to be noticeable about the city.

THE BEE'S SIDE OF THE STORY The Bee, at whose door is laid the calamity which has befallen the city, appeared tonight with the following

In the Bee of Saturday last appeared certain unique headlinesexpressing thanks that the Session of the Legislature was drawing to a close, and several items questioning the value of the work done at this session, as well as commenting on the frisky lives led by some of the members while in this city. Certain legislators strongly resented the publication, and it was made the excuse for a retallatory measure against Sacramento in the shape of a resolution removing, the State capital to San José, which was rushed through both houses on Saturday night. Conservative, intelligent and respectable legislators upon whom the publication in no way reflected regarded the measure as a good joke, to be remedied by reconsideration, but others, urged on by the adherents of San José and the enemies of Sacramento, apparently determined to make the action absolute. A meeting of the representative citizens of Særamento city, on Sunday evening, hastily called together, adopted strong resolutions denouncing the Bee as a newspaper and condemning its statements concerning the legislators as false and isbelous, and repudiating all belief in or responsibility for the article on the part of Sacramento city.

While the resolutions contained much that their tramers will acknowledge in cooler moments to be untrue and unjust as regards this paper, it is eminently right and proper that the citizens of Sacramento should disclaim any responsibility for acts or opinions of the Bee. This newspaper is owned and controlled by its managers, and they alone are responsible for anything that may appear in its columns. It is not necessary to discuss, at present, the merits of the publication of Saturday. It reflected on the respectable members of the Legislature only to the extent that circumstances had made them colleagues for sixty days of those to whom reference was had. For that publication the Bee will gracefully accept the proper punishment if it cannot prove its truth and properiety. Nothing was said stronger than appeared in the Examiner last week, nor in several Sacramento papers. It appears that the Bee's Examiner last week, nor in several Sacramento papers. It appears that the Bee's article was timely for the San José scheme, however. If, however, the Bee has been guilty of a sin against the Legislature, it is the Bee that should be punished and not the city and citizens of Sacramento, who are entirely innocent in the matter. To remove the State capital from Sacramento because the Bee has offended the Legislature. ure, is as unjust and as unworthy of dig nifed law-makers as if a measure would b nified law-makers as if a measure would be really maintained in earnest to refuse all necessary legislation to San Francisco because some leading newspapers of that city have published in black type the names of a large number of legislators as enemies of the people opposing the traffic association's measure.

Brass Bands, Bonfires and a General Jubilation Indulged In.

SAN JOSE, March 13 .- | By the Asso ciated Press.] The "Garden City" is in a ferment of enthusiasm and fever of excitement over the action of the Legislature, and the jubilation that fills everyone finds expression in all sorts of ways. News of the refusal of the Assembly to pass the reconsideration measure reached the city about noon today, and quickly spread. When the went up. The first outburst was suc ceeded by an earnest appreciation of the action, which found vent in shaking hands and general congratulations on all sides. Nearly every man who met another on the streets stopped to reit-erate the news and shake hands with a chuckle of pleasure and pride at the honor bestowed on the city. Tonight the enthusiasm found expression in bonfires, street parades, firing anvils and cannon and jollification in general. Brass bands paraded the streets; followed by long lines of citizens, carrying transparencies and shouting lustily at every step on the way. Bonfires blazed on almost every street corner and large numbers of people in the residence districts added to the appearance of the jubilation by building large bonfires in front of their residences. After a parade of the streets, the bands centered at St. James's park, where a monster bonfire was blazing, and there gathered a crowd which shouted itself hoarse.

A large nember of the prominent men of the county met in a room at the St. Claire Club tonight, and had a general discussion of the situation. It was suggested that an invitation be sent to the Legislature to visit San José in a body and spend a few days here and enjoy themselves. The idea was considered such a good one that steps were taken to call a meeting of citizens tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, when this action will probably be formally taken.

State expenses, as to be appalling. The wild and senseless chatter as to the light cost was consistent with the haste with which the Legislature acted, and the undignified, not to say reckless procedure, with which the concurrent resolution was railroaded through, and the rights of the Senators and Assemblymen protesting were ridden over rough-shod. people in the night hours and rushed through to apparent finality before the midnight hour struck. No excuse can be made for the immediate occasion of the offense. The Bee did not, and does not, express the sentiment of the people of this city. Its uncalled for and sweeping assault made upon the whole membership of the Legislature was scandalous and indecent. It was a character of matter decent journalism abhors, and is fit only for lovers of the bandy. It was of the cloth of journalism that, more than all else, is calculated to drag the newspaper business in the mire. But neither can we excuse the retaliatory action of the houses. The fact is it was of a character to justify the belief that it was inspired by an unreasonable and hot temper that the people will rebuke. The action was not the result of any popular demand. The people have not at any time instructed their representatives to take the step. They are not representing the whole of the people by the action taken. But let no one run away with the idea that if there is a change of the seat of government, the city of Sacramento is hereby placed upon a sacrificial altar. She is the city she was before she was a capital. She will be a city of commercial importance if the seat of fore she was a capital. She will be a city of commercial importance if the seat of government shall be changed.

That the action was taken in revenge is a sufficient reason for condemning the measure. Another serious objection is the provision requiring San José to deed ten acres and give $1,000,000 to the State for being made the capital city. If the doubtful honor of being made the State's capital is to be sqld, other cities should be given an opportunity to bid for it. If it be at all desirable to change the location of the capital, Fresno should be the place chosen.

ABJECTLY NONSENSICAL.
SAN DIEGO, March 13.—The Union will say in the morning: The proposition for the removal of the State capital from Sacramento to San Josés is abjectly nonsensical. It is now sufficiently remote from San Francisco to prevent, in a measure, the presence of the hordes of that city's wire pullers, who would infest a capital as near-by as San Jose. It is an insult to the State's dignity to propose such a thing, and puts California on a level with the county boomers of Oklahoma. As a plain, practical business proposition such an act is unwise and totally uncalled for, and deserves stern and vigorous con demnation.

The Cause of the Ruction—"Power of the Press"—Mad Capitoleans. Special Correspondence of The Times.

SACRAMENTO, March 12, 1893 .- Th power of the press was never better exemplified than in the action of the California Legislature last night. A few uncomplimentary newspaper articles in the Bee was the spark that exploded a powder magazine. At first little attention was paid to the incipient blaze, many taking it as a newspaper's weak attempt at a joke, but when fanned by the breeze of discontent it became a more serious matter. And when Senator Seymour of San Bernardino wilfully poured oil on the flames a conflagration was soon in progress that no amount of filibustering on the part of Sacramento could subdue

The Bee yesterday afternoon pub-lished several articles on the uselessness and general immorality of the members of the present Legislature. On the first column of the first page was one headed as follows: THANK GOD!

On the inside of the paper was an article detailing how a certain unnamed member of the Legiscertain unnamed member of the Legis-lature was "done" out of $4000 by a certain dashing adventuress in a cer-tain place of questionable repute. On another page was an illustrated article entitled "Legislation and Midnight Hi-larity." in which the writer sought to convey the idea that the members of the Legislature were a bad set, morally. Here are a few choice morsels from this

All legislators have dual lives. All legislators have dual lives.

The Legislature will probably wind up its labors before this time next week. Its members have devoted more time to social amusement and midnight hilarity than they have to the transaction of public business. In this the State is to be congrat_lated. While the midnight orgies have possibly had a tendency to make unchaste and dehad a tendency to make unchaste and demoralized individuals, they have had a b neficent effect in preventing the creation, in troduction and passage of many pernicious measures crippling the expansion of the material interests of the State. The norde of powdered and gaily appar-eled women that has attended this session of the Legislature has been large. They have smiled and fawned, flattered and ca-joled the law-makers with all that artifice so characteristic of their class. Early in the session their numerical strength was great in both chambers. They came from all parts of the State, and swarmed about the Capitol in a wealth of finery and exposed charms, which insured to many of their flock wine, pate de fole gras and convival companionship for the remainder of

Many stories of midnight carousals have been told. Their frequent recitals have made them public property. It is related of one aged law-maker, how, in company with a gay butterfly, he went out on a midnight lark. They went to a swell restau rant. The wine was ordered, and for several hours it flowed with bounty. Both be-came uproariously intoxicated, when the woman mounted the table and tried to exewoman mounted the table and the to execute the skirt dance. The legislator howled with delight at her gyrations and efforts to kick skyward. Dishes were broken, and victuals and woman mingled. The racket cost the legislator nearly a month's salary.

On another occasion a party of five law-makers went to a palace of sin.
And then ensued a scene unique for its depravity.

A gay old lothario, whose acres are numbered by the thousands, became enamored of a saleswoman who works in a Sagra-mento store. Now, the old lecher has a charming wife and several grown-up sons and daughters. The other night two members from the interior, pretty well jagged up by a visit to the headquarters of a county division project, dropped into this resort, and securing a box, were soon fondling two females possessing but little of their former comeliness.

The most dangerous and insidious of the immoral legislators are those who keep open house. When they meet their fellow associates, who are in the habit of visiting places where sin is rampant and for sale, they wear a "I-am-more holier-than-thou" look, but they are the Pharisees of our own time. In their dens innocent girls-girls who, through their influence, have secured clerkships, are led into temptation, are de-filed and made unclean.

No matter how straightened the circumstances of the family may be, girls blossoming into womanhood, or who have reached that ripe state of perfection, had better restrain all ambition, laudable as it may seem, in relieving the family by securing a legislative position, and keep away from Sacramento during a session of the Legislature. Hundreds of brilliant young men, with a future blushing with roseate promise, have had their character forever damned by becoming legislators. If this be true of young men, how much more momentous is the lesson to young women. Legislation and midnight hilarity will leave nothing but rancor in their bosoms, and tears and sorrows in their lives.

Now, the Zelaesque editors of the

Now, the Zolaesque editors of the Bee, when they prepared the matter and forms for last night's edition. probably imagined that this particular issue would astonish the natives, such a spirit of enterprise having heretofore been an unknown quantity in siluriar Sacramento. In a measure they were right, but they "reckoned without their host"—the Legislature. As it was, both the natives and the Legislature were taken by surprise—one at the un-expected spirit of enterprise displayed, and the other at the naked truth exposed in the realistic efforts of the "great afternoon daily of Northern California."

demand. Everybody bought one, and many comments were made. The newspaper boys here decided that it was a clever piece of journalistic writing, but the more serious of the mem-bers thought there might be good grounds for future libel suits, although no names were mentioned in a single So when Senator Seymour ast night introduced his resolution, as a capital joke on the Bee and its constituents, the matter was taken more The section of the proposed constitu-tional amendment, which "took like wild-fire," reads as follows:

"Section 1. The city of San José is hereby declared to be the seat of government of this State, and shall so re main until changed by law; but no law changing the seat of government shall be valid or binding unless the same be approved and ratified by a majority of the qualified electors of the State voting therefor at a general State elec-tion, under such regulations and pro-visions as the Legislature, by a twothirds vote of each house, may provide, submitting the question of change to the people. Provided, that the State shall receive a donation of a site of not less than ten acres and $1,000,000 before such removal shall be had. The Governor, the Secretary of State and the Attorney-General are hereby authorized to approve said site, and upon approval thereof and the nayment of $1,000. thereof and the payment of $1,000,000 into the State treasury, the Legislature shall provide for the erection of the necessary building and the removal of the seat of government."

After the reading by the clerk it was rushed through the Senate under a sus-pension of the rules. Senator Hart of Sacramento protested, but without avail. It was carried by the requisite constitutional majority and immed ately transmitted to the Assembly and immedi Here the rules were also sus-pended and the resolution adopted, but not until after a call of the House was demanded, and about a dozen ab-sentees were dragged from their beds and other places around town. Two and other places around town. Two hours were consumed before the requi site voting strength was obtained, the members of the House were more in the members of the House were more in carnest than the Senate, and several attempts to suspend proceedings under the call of the House were voted down. The Legislature was now in dead earnest, and the clocks of the Assembly were set back by order of the Speaker at midnight, so as not to encroach on Sunday, legislatively speaking. Mr. Anderson of Sacramento, who had only the night before engineered the Govthe night before engineered the Gov-vernor's mansion job through the As-sembly, saw his reported prospective $5000 fee slip through his fingers, and, of course, was correspondingly mad. His bulging eyes bulged still further, and his ruddy face became still redder, and his ruddy face became still redder, if possible. He was mad, infuriated, in fact so much so that he couldn't utter a word. He just sat in silence and fumed. Finally when the vote was an nounced, and it was known the resolution had carried, there was a wild shout and a scramble for the telegraph office.

ASSETS AND LIABILITIES Failure of the Atkinson House Furnishi

Boston, March 13 .- | By the Asociated Press. | The Atkinson House Furnishing Company, with fourteen branches in other New England cities, has made an assignment. President Atkinson says the liabilities are #1,500,000; assets, $3,000,000.
The failure was caused by light collections and inability to meet a call loan on Saturday. The firm will probably pay its debts in full.

President Atkinson was seen this afternoon and said: "10 course it is a sternoon and said: "10 course it is a And in the article thereunder this pleasant news is conveyed:

ties when you assert they are but $1,500,000?" was asked. "I don't think I have underestimated them; certainly not," Atkinson replied. "In fact, I believe they will fall short of $1,500,000."

When the corporation was formed it assumed the liabilities as well as the assets of B. A. Atkinson & Co., the original incorporators of the company, ramentans can hardly believe their eyes and ears. But, unless the matter is reconsidered tomorrow, there is no going back. It will be sub-mitted to the people, and every legis-lator who has ever been in Sacramento who began business in Portland in Au gust, 1887. The business up to that date was a branch of B. A. Atkinson's Boswill work for the change. Thousands of reasons are given why the capital should be removed, while only one arton store and under the management of Isaac C. Atkinson. B. A. Atkinson re-ceived from the new corporation one-fifth of 50,000 shares of stock as a course, and that is the expense attend-ing such removal. The present build-ing is an expensive luxury at best, and, bonus for his interest, at which time the stock on hand and accounts amounted to $197,000. The whole of high is an expensive durary at best, and, besides, is full of the germs of disease. The sanitary arrangements are most defective.

Sacramento itself, by virtue of its situation, is the hotbed of typhoid fever, rheamatism, malaria and pneumonia. Governors, State officers and this property was turned over to the new company. Shortly after this the capital stock was increased from $500,000 to $1,000,000. And some people in the furniture trade who hold stocks in the Atkinson House Furnishing Com-pany and B. A. Atkinson & Co report members of the Legislature have died from diseases contracted while on duty here. Sickness and absence on account they have received semi-annual dividends of 5 per cent.

Since the combination was formed and consolidation effected, and the headquarters removed to Boston, the writer is informed that many manufacturers of New England, who have been selling goods to B. A. Atkinson & Co. and the present corporation, have been re-quested to take blocks of stock ranging from $1000 to $10,000, the traders being reminded that if they could stay in the corporation they would be likely to receive the bulk of the trade in their lines, but the company reserved the right to buy goods where it pleased. However, the prices between stockholders and non-stockholders being equal the former would receive the company's business. Financial men of Boston and New England looked upon the scheme with more or less criticism and doubt, because it was rumored that very many of the leases of the concern are pledge to money-lenders in New England for loans at a high rate of interest.

· WINTER RACING.

The "Duke of Gloucester" Not Wholly to Blame for the Bill. NEW YORK, March 15.—By the Asociated Press.] The Guttenberg of ficials now say that Thompson, "Duke of Gloucester," is not wholly to blame for the Anti-Racing Bill, and that national politics figured more in the legislation than the public is aware. A member of the Executive Committee said today: "There is more truth than fiction in the published report that President Cleveland announced he would not recognize in the distribution of Federal offices men who voted for racetrack bills. From this source pressure was brought on Senators Smith and McPherson and they in turn prac tically forced Thompson to introduce the bill prohibiting racing during the winter months."

GLADSTONE.

Against this, on the other hand, it was argued that the property could either be sold or used for other purposes, and that the $1,-000,000 subsidy and ten-acre site offered by San José would offset the daughter, and two servants of the household have influenza. Mrs. Gladstone is attending her husband con-stantly, and refuses access to ministers and Gladstone's personal friends, so as to be able to preserve the absolute quiet ordered by Sir Andrew Clarke

AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT.

AT THE OPERAHOUSE - The Lion's PARK THEATER-Oliver Twist.

Turs is the day determined upon for the adjournment of the Legislature.

THE project of the Legislature to Yelease prisoners on tickets of leave after they have served a part of their term, does not meet with favor from the press of the State. The general idea is that it is likely to prove a dangerous experi-

THE Mexican mission, which has been conferred uson ex-Gov. Isaac Pusev Gray, carries with it salaries, and perquisites amounting to $17,000 annually. This, coupled with the fact that he will be located in a delightful' city and among a people who are very agreeable socially, makes it quite a nice little plum which Mr. Gray carries off.

THE public interest in the suddenlysprung proposition to remove the State capital from Sacramento is general and absorbing. It is orally discussed, written about and "jawed" over all Diego and from the mountains to the mar. It is the topic of the hour in California. We print today a mass of matter, by telegraph and mail, on this timely topic.

THE San Francisco Call concludes that, although Hawkins, the prizefighter, and his abettors have been discharged, and there is apparently no one to blame for the recent fatality in the ring, the passage of the bill against prize-fighting at least strengthens the hands of the police as regards all encounters in the future, and it will not be so easy to escape responsibility next time a combatant is knocked out and his body sent to the undertaker.

MR. CLEVELAND could not think of permitting a Democratic sacred concert to be given in the Pension building on Sunday; but his Democratic cohorts and cohorters did not hesitate to compel Washington saloon-keepers to keep their saloons open until late Sunday morning while they proceeded to drink themselves stone blind preparatory to the marching home of Johnny. A little music set to a lively measure would have been altogether appropriate to this beauteous and bacchantic feast.

THE idea of removing the capital of the State to Los Angeles is not encouraged by any considerable number of our because the project is not feasi-The northern and central portions of the State would never consent to such a change, and they could bring good geographical reasons against it. Any effort which we might make to bring the capital here would amount only to a diversion, and while accomplishing nothing for Los Angeles, might serve to defeat the location in some suitable and available place. We are in for the removal of the Capital from Sacramento, and any city near the center of the State which is well adapted to the purpose and secures the popular favor ought to suit the people

An exchange relates a rather pointed story of a gentleman who was engaged in writing a history of New York some time ago, and employed an expert to find out how many speculators had succeeded in Wall street. After a long search the expert discovered a man from Rhode Island, named Smith, who had won $30,000 in a speculation there, and had actually taken the money out of the street, never to speculate any more. The bright and shining example was referred to in the history with such feeling that Smith, when he chanced to see it, at once bethought him that he would go back to the street and make a hundred thousand, just to give the story greater point. He did so, and lost everything. The brokers and not their lambs secure the fleece.

Ir Chief Samuels and Maj. Ben C. Truman get up a real old-fashioned duel heaven forbid!) the doughty Major will have a chance to exemplify the ethics of the code which he has set forth in his book devoted to that subject. We shall be sure of one duel, at least, which is technically correct as to all its preliminaries and developments. and this may serve as a criterion hereafter. Any such clumsy and unromantic proceeding as attaching a log-chain to the opposing principals and hauling them up to the scratch with a mule team will not be tolerated, especially on Maj. Truman's side. He will no btedly prefer to walk, and in which direction is not open to conjecture. Ve do not know how much of a fireater that Kentucky gentleman known as Chlef Samuels is, but if he can eat more fire in a purely literary way than our own Major, he is a hummer, and travel with a side-show. Still

The action of the Legislature in presenting to the people of the State the proposition to remove the capital from Sacramento to San José may have been somewhat hasty, but the conclusion need not follow that it is ill-advised. Indeed, if the deliberate and unbiased judgment of all the representatives who have ever sat in the legislative halls at Sacramento could be taken, the consensus of opinion would probably be that it is an unsuitable place for the capital of this State. That a proposition for removal was not presented years ago is the principal wonder, and it attests the fact that people are prone to put up with an established evil for a long time before it even occurs to them that they can dispense with it. It is this tendency to acquiesce in whatever seems to be firmly established—to bear the ills we have rather than fly to others-that dams up public sentiment until it has accumulated a tremendous head. Then, when it does begin to break over the obstruction, it goes with a rush. That is the real secret of the apparent suddenness of the proposition to remove the capital, and that is the reason also why it went through both branches of the Legislature on a two-thirds vote the same day it was presented. There is more in this thing than sudden pique at some article or articles that may have appeared in the columns of the Sacramento Bee. It is the outburst of a long smothered sentiment, which has taken hold of the people of the State along the line from Siskiyou to San and particularly of their legislative representatives, and, whatever present offense may have been given, has only served to arouse that sentiment to action. The members of the Legislature have suddenly realized that they have grinned and borne this evil long enough. If they remain consistent in their action, and the guestion is submitted to a vote, we think an > will record their deliberate judgment in favor of removal. Sacramento has only two points to substantiate its claim to continue the capital of California.

First-It is the present seat of Government, and any change except for mportant benefits is not to be desired. Second-It is near the center of the State geographically, and convenient of access by established lines of travel.

of argument may be presented why Sacramento should not continue to be the capital. The topography of the city is undesirable. It is flat and low and subject to overflow every winter by the Sacramento River. The climate is about the worst of any place in the State, being not only disagreeable, but unhealthy. In summer the excessive heat is all but unbearable, and in winter the proportion of murky and disagreeable days is excessive. Many a valuable life has been sacrificed through the malarious influences which prevail of Cacramento Doonle who from other portions of the State where the climatic conditions are better seem to be especially susceptible to the Sacramento malaria, and once they get it into their systems, a long time is required to rid themselves of it. The State has no right to impose such an ordeal as this upon the men whom it selects to administer the government. It has been only a few months since Gov. Markham buried a little daughter who was killed, without doubt, by the Sacramento climate. If he could surrender all the honors and emoluments of his

we presume he would gladly make the exchange. Bad as Sacramento is in a physical sense it is even worse in its moral atmosphere. Its chief industry has been the State Government so long that is has very nearly given up other lines of useful effort. It lives on and lives for what it can make out of State appropriations and-"grease." Sacramento's one courageous, independent newspaper, the old Union, was allowed to starve and be driven to the wall by the opposition established by the Southern Pacific Raifroad Company. Since that unhappy day the corporation has had a complaisant press in Sacramento to record its acts and "crook the pregnant hinges of the knee that thrift may follow fawning." Sacramento has always sent to the Legislature a representation which has been foremost in furthering the interests of the great octopus and helping it to sap the vitality of the State. We say that a city in which such an atmosphere of subservience prevails is not a fit place for the capital of California, especially at a time when we are making a heroic effort to free ourselves from the long-time thralldom.

The same lack of independence and patriotism which has made Sacramento the intrenched stronghold of the railroad monopoly has made it a con genial resort for every kind of vicious influence upon legislation and administration. Boodle is looked upon as a legitimate factor in securing what is desired, or, at least, it is not condemned with any great severity. It constitutes a part of the grist which comes to Sac ramento's mill.

That city has not only lent the weight of its influence to debauch legislators and other public of lals, but it has de we hope the duel will not take place. graded every public institution that has both of them and dismissed the case.

fallen within its grasp. It has allowed the State Fair to be converted into a saturnalia for gamblers, thus squandering hundreds of thousands of dollars of the public funds.

San José has the advantage of being more nearly the center of the State, longitudinally considered, than Sacramento. San José is a well-built and handsome city. It is convenient of access. It has a pleasant and healthful climate. Its people stand ready to donate a site of ten acres and raise a bonus of $1,000,000, with which the State can replace its buildings, thus making the change without great public expense. The moral atmosphere is as much better in San José as the physical atmosphere. It seems to us that all the essential conditions favor the change.

We hope the Legislature will stand by its action, and let the question go to the people. If a popular vote sustains the present sink-hole of a capital, then nothing more is to be said on the subject. But we are strongly impressed with the idea that the public will welcome the chance to secure a new deal and a fresh start in a clean place.

We are, then, in favor of the removal of the capital, not because we wish to injure Sacramento, but because we wish to benefit California.

THE city of Peoria, Ill., is trying hard The city of Peoria, Ill., is trying hard to raise $200,000 with the design of offering it as a bonus for the location of the Chicago Observatory, with its big Yerkes telescope, at that place. The Peoria people have an idea that with a hill and a fine building to offer they can capture the prize. If the they can capture the prize. If the Chicago authorities want to secure the best results they had better go further and locate their telescope on the top of Mr Wilson with the honus of Southern California's fine climate and clear at

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE .- No more brillian and enthusiastic audience ever assembled in the Grand Operahouse than was the one that last night greeted Frederick Warde and Louis James upon the initial performance of their engagement, and certainly there was never seen on the stage of this city a more perfect presentation of a Shakespearean play than was the one presented last night by those eminent actors. Julius Cossar is a grand and gloomy tragedy, and its stately dialogue, its visions of blood and death; the marching of the Roman legions, the stirring blast, the flashing blade, the meet rewards of deceit and treachery, all were depicted as only factors possessed of true genius can limin them to the eyes and ears of an intelligent and appreciative audience that last night greeted Frederick Warde genius can limn them to the eyes and ears of an intelligent and appreciative audience of play-goers.

The beautiful dressing of the play last night was one of its most striking and pleasing features. We are wont to see Shakespeare given with tawdry and insufficient furnishings, which go to cheapen and belittle the work of the artists engaged, hence to see a grand old tragedy like that which shows the death of one of the greatest characters in history set out in rich and appropriate costuming and armament adds immeasureably to the satisfaction. overwhelming majority of the people

Mr. Warde must have felt a thrill of the blood when, at the end of the fourth act, the curtain was called up again and again after his splendid eulogy over the body of the dead "Cæsar." for the house rose at him, cheering and applauding until he was obliged to respond with one of those handsome and fitting little speeches for which he is so deservedly famous.

Equally hearty was the splendid raily which Mr. James received at the close of the fifth act, after the scene in front of his tent, when the ghost of "Cæsar" appears to the grand and unhappy "Brutus." His reading of the lines in this scene bordered on perfection, and well deserved the repeated curtain calls and the final call to the footlights which he so vociferously received. Charles D. Herman emphasized the magnificent impression he made last year. He is a grand actor, and well rounds out the play by the way he voices the sonorous periods of the matchless bard. His stage presence is pleasing to a degree, and his "Cæssur" is a bit of playing which is classic in its finish and effectiveness. Howard Kyle made a very fine "Julius Cæsar," and, while there are some extremely weak places in the cast, the work of the leading artists is such as to make fault-finding about minor features

The female rôles afford but little opportunity for the players, but Fanny Bowman did her little rarely well, and Edythe Chapman developed much emotional force in her hards appearance on the scene. The compared to the scene.

PARK THEATER.—At the Park Theater last evening a well-filled house greeted the opening performance of Oliver Twist with Miss Georgie Woodthrope as "Nancy Sykes," supported well by Fred Cooper and the remaining members of the company in the diversified rôles which the story affords. The piece, judging from the reception of the initial presentation, bids fair to draw good crowds for the remainder of the week. PARK THEATER .-- At the Park Theater last

"Yes, your honor," admitted the prisoner, doggedly.
"Well, you ought to be ashamed of yourself."

The little woman flushed up, but kept still, with her eyes fixed on her hus-

LETTERS TO THE TIMES

Probibiti n Criticism of Some of Gov. Murphy's Recommendations.

Los Angeles, March 11.—[To the Editor of The Times.] The message of Gov. Murphy of Arizona, given in part in yesterday's Times, furnishes a striking illustration of the deducational effect upon the public conscience of licensing the sale of intoxicating drints. He writes like a statesman when theating of gambling, and shows the principle at stake when he says:

"I respectfully submit that the law in regard to gambling now on our statute books conflicts with every principle of enlightenment and moral progress, retards desirable immigration, and blemishes the good name of Arizona. A moral anomaly is presented in promoting the education of our youth by the help of revenue derived from the protection of practices generally unlawful, and prohibited."

He shows that his own moral vision and that of the "destrable immigration" have not been blinded to the evil of gambling.

I honor him for the above words, and hoped better things from him when he came to apply the same principle of license to that kindred evil, the saloon. But my hopes were vain, for the binding of the moral vision which the openly denounced sin of gambling was not help to accomplish, was accomplished by that more insidous evil, the liquor power.

Is this not but another illustration that the continual effort to license and legalize a traffic which can never be made legal has blinded the moral vision of magistrates and legislators?

A Word to Our Merchants.
FINE TOURISTS' HOTEL ASSOURCE OF GREAT
REVENUE TO ALL CLASSES OF MERCHANTS. Los Angeles, March 13, 17 the Editor of The Times] While in San Diego the other day, I visited the store of a friend of mine and was pleased to hear him say that business was "very good." I noticed a lot ousiness was "very good." I noticed a lot of customers in the store, and in the course of our conversation he remarked that their city metchants always got along very well in the winter time, "that the winter season was their harvest." I asked him the ex-planation of it, wanting to know why the He replied that the explanation was simple enough; that it was the season of the year that their Coronado and other hotels were full of tourists; that tourists, as a rule, were people of large means, were liberal in their patronage and never "haggled" about prices

"But," I remarked, "do you mean to say that these rich tourists who are not already well supplied with an abun-dance of clothing and everything else before coming to this country." "Yes," he answered, "they are well and richly supplied, but when they get out here they soon discover that the articles suddenly packed up at their homes in the frozen East are ot suitable for this climate and they constantly purchasing other apparel. This is the rule with reference to both male and female apparel and furnishings. But," he continued, "their patronage reaches all kinds of store and shop-keepers. They have an abundance of wealth, and every whim and caprice is satisfied. There is no class of business that I know of, from the peanut and popcorn man to the largest merchant, that is not beneated by the ex-merchant, that is not beneficed by the expenditure of their money."

I have thought several times since that our Los Angeles merchants ought to have their attention called to this; not only the merchants, but the street car companies and owners of theaters—in fact, all classes of business. There is no disguising the fact any longer, a fine tourist notel in Los Angeles is a necessity. I have been more pressed with this fact this winter than ever before. As a business man, and from a monetary point of view, I make the assertion, and challenger contradiction, that a first-class tourists' hotel, properly located, is the best investment that our people can go into at this stage of our city's history. I have talked with tourists on the trains, and while they all have a kind word history. I have talked with tourists on the trains, and while they all have a kind word for Los Angeles, the metropolis of Southern California, they all complain of our not having a fine tourists' hotel here. They are unanimous in saying that they would prefer living at such a hotel in Los Angeles than any other place in Southern California, for it is the largest city, with an abundance of churches and places of amusement. If such an hotel were buit in Los Angeles, these tourists could attend the theaters, churches, operas, lectures, etc., which pleasures are denied them now, because of their having to seek small towns and villages for suitable hotels. Towns near by, like Alhambra, San Gabriel, Pomona, Pasadena, etc., all have hotels that excel Los Angeles in this regard.

dena, etc., all have hotels that excel Los Angeles in this regard.

Tourists from the frozen, ice-bound East do not want to be shut in by brick walls on Spring or Main streets; what they desire, and are willing to pay for, is good service at a fine hotel situate in a commanding location amid semi-tropic vegetation, spacious grounds amid bright howers and sunshine, and, if they can combine these pleasures with that of close proximity to the conveniences of a large and beautiful city like Los Angeles, they will prefer it every clous grounds amid bright howers and sunshine, and, if they can combine these pleasures with that of close proximity to the conveniences of a large and beautiful city like Los Angeles, they will prefer it every time. We have here evenything but the one thing lacking. We have the ideal grounds, climate and city, but how much longer will we have to wait before we get a "move on us" toward a tourists' hotel, to cost say, half a million dollars, exclusive of the grounds, which should be donated to a company building such a hotel.

When the wind blows from the south, east, southeast or southwest only will when the wind blows from the south, east, southeast or southwest only will the sounds of the whistie be heard. Gossip as to the Personnel of the Proposed Commission.

Dr. Mott Smith Discusses the Annexation Question-Native Rule Forever Ended on the Islands-The Steamer

" Telegraph to The Times. Washington, March 18, -[By the Associated Press.] At 5:80 o'clock this afternoon President and Mrs. Cleveland accorded a special reception to Princess Kaiulani, the meeting taking place in the blue parlor. The Princess was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Davies, their daughter and a lady friend. The call was entirely of a social nature, and lasted probably a quarter of an hour. The visitors were charmed with the cordiality of the reception accorded them, the ladies being captivated by the pleasing manners of the wife of the President, and the Prindess said subsequently that Mrs. Cleveland was the only lady she ever fell in love with.

During the day Mr. Davies, unaccompanied by the Princess or any of his family, called on Secretary Gresham. This visit, like that to the White House, was a purely social one.

Paul Neumann, envoy of Queen Liliou-kalani, also called on Secretary Gresham during the afternoon.

Gossip as to the personnel of the commission that will probably becappointed to visit the Hawaiian Islands includes the names of Judge Martin V. Montgomery of Michigan, of the District of Columbia Supreme Bench, Gen. Schofield, Admiral Brown and Capt. H. L. Howisson. Gen. Schofield was a member of the commission that visited Hawaii many years ago. and Admiral Brown's last cruise was to that country. Capt. Howisson is now at the Mare Island Navy-yard. He is said to be peculiarly fitted for the mission by reason of his service in Hawaii, and naval officers generally agree that he is one of Gresham during the afternoon

ficers generally agree that he is one of the best equipped men in the service for the position.

Dr. Mott Smith, the Hawaiian Minister, does not regard the appointment of the commission with much favor. "If the commission is appointed, of course, we will accept it," he said. "It can serve no good purpose that I can see. All possible information is at hand and nothing new can be gleaned. Although Minister Stevens is a Republican, it seems to me his opinions and information, coming from an American citizens, would be as valuable to the present administration as they were to the last. Delay is all I can see from the last. Delay is all I can see I route the appointment of an American commission, the case being jeopardized in the meantime by this delay. Native government is simply impossible henceforth, in the face of everthing that has occurred, What Kaiulani, poor child, wants I don't know She cannot assume the don't know. She cannot assume the throne, for her aunt has not abdicated. I do not see how the United States Government can put her on the throne and ignore the existence and prior claims of the Queen. I am dreading claims of the Queen. I am dreading some personal quarnel between the United States and the English sailors that will give the latter power and opportunity to step in and assume an aggressive attitude. I see a squabble has occurred already. It is to be hoped no serious rows will happen. In case the United States refuses to annex Hawaii, the provisional government, in my opinion, would struggle to maintain the independence of the islands."

ALL A MISTAKE. No orders were issued from the Treasry Department for the revenue cutter Thetis to prepare for a trip to Hawaii for the purpose of carrying a commis-sion to be appointed by the President, sion to be appointed by the President, nor have the postoffice authorities here issued orders for the detention of the steamship Australia from Wednesday till Friday in order that she may carry important advices to Honolulu.

[From Our Regular New York Fashion Cor respondent.]
A pretty addition to your collection of accessories is a little shoulder cape, a sort of elaborated collar, made of two ruffles and a third upright one to go about the throat. The material can be silk. The wrong side should, of course, be as pretty and as dainty as the right. The girl whose shoulders or neck are not all that they should be will find this all that they should be will find this little cape a good idea to add to her plan for an evening dress. The cape can be laid lightly over the shouldess and not fastened in front. The square neck effect is thus accomplished without actually cutting the bodice according to a fashion voted old. To many styles of beauty the soft cosiness of something close about the neck or at the sides of the neck is absolutely recessary. This little cape affair just supsemething close about the neck or at the sides of the neck is absolutely necessary. This little cape affair just supplies the want. Feather boas do the same, but they sometimes seem rather too much of a protection, and besides they are big thirgs at best, somewhat clumsy to manage, and have a way of slipping that keeps a girl's mind on them all the time. These little capeare so light they hold their own with hardly a thought from the wearer. As to color, the sheer white is always pretty, the neck rume and the other two, also, can be run with narrow rose-colored ribbon, and the same, ribbon may be provided to the. Of course, any other color of ribbon may be used with a view to harmony with especial costumes. Rose-colored mult makes a pretty cape. The rumes may be embriddered at the edges by hand, and they may be double, as say, rose color on one side and green on the other.

Arranged-Senator Stanford's Committees-An Editor After an Office-Notes.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, -March 13. - [Special:] The list of Senate Committees, now being prepared by Senator Gorman's Steering Committee of seven, may be somewhat modified before its final submission to the Democratic caucus to morrow or Wednesday. As at present arranged it places California's junior Senator, White, as follows: Chairman of the Committee on Irrigation and Reclamation of Arid Lands; sixth on Commerce and sixth on Territories with places on two other committees. the intention being to give each Sen ator places on five committees.

THE REPUBLICAN MINORITIES. The Republicans have not yet submit ted their minority portion of the com mittees, but it is generally understood that they will drop back to the other end of the same committees they have held so long, only nine or ten unimportant chairmanships going to Republicans who have served the longest. Senator Stanford will be obliged therefore to give up his desirable chairmanship of Public Buildings and Grounds, in which position he has been able to do so much in getting public buildings for California, but will remain on the committee. He is also likely to retain a minority membership on the Civil Service and Retrenchment, Education and Labor, Fisheries and Naval Affairs.

SENATOR WHITE TALKS. Senator White said to a Times correspondent this evening: "Unless one can have a chairmanship of an important committee, he is better off without any chairmanship. I do not feel so well pleased being at the head of the Arid Lands Committee as at my position on the Commerce Committee. That was what I wanted, and which I asked was what I wanted, and which I asked for. They tell me it is the first time a new Senator was ever given a place on that committee, but they realize that I am the only Democratic Senator from the Pacific Coast, and that the important interests of that section of our country need a representative on that committee."

STANFORD'S MOVEMENTS.

On their way home after the Senate adjourns Senator and Mrs. Stanford intend to vary their usual route and take a trip into Mexico, where they have never been. They will remain some days in the City of Mexico and make short stops at other interesting points. They will also stop at prominent re-sorts in Lower California and will be three or four weeks on the journey three or four weeks on the journey from here to San Francisco. EDITORS' CHANCES.

Editor Lawrence, of the San Francisco Examiner, is here seeking the appointment of Collector of Customs at the port of San Francisco, and has good prospects of success.

President Cleveland today told Dorsey and several other Congressmen from Missouri that the rumor that he and Postmaster-General Bissell had both said that all editors were barred from appointment to any offices was not true. The President assured the delegation that he had never intimated any intention to discriminate against news paper editors in the distribution of pat ronage because they were editors, and forthermore that he had not even entertained any such idea. The editors will take their chances with all others.

The Postmaster-General also told the same party that he had never announced any such policy, and did not know that it had ever been contemplated. This is, of course, welcome news to Mr. Lawrence.

WASHINGTON NOTES!

Gold Being Received at the Treasury De-WASHINGTON, March 18 .- [By the Associated Press.] The Treasury Department continues to receive offers of gold from the Wsst in exchange for small notes, for which there is a present and increasing demand. Several offers had to be temporarily declined, as it was found the gold was of light weight, and until those who offered it made up the discrepancy in weight, the Government could not accept it. In connection, it is interesting to note that the Government requires absolute accuracy before it will receipt for light weight coin.

LETTER CARRIERS WIN.

The Eight-hour Law as Construed by the Supreme Court.

WASBINGTON, March 18.—[By the Associated Pres.] The Supreme Court this morning affirmed the judgment of the Court of Claims in favor of the letter carriers in the cases of A. S. Post and Frank Gates. These cases arose under the act prescribing eight hours as a day's work for letter carriers.

It was contended by the letter caradapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the research the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

In the Gates case the question was whether or not the eight-hour provision, as applied to letter carriers, meant an average of eight hours per day for a month, the department holding that a deficit in the eight hours on Sundays or other days could be set off against the excess over eight hours on other days. The court rules this cannot be done, and the carriers are entitled to extra pay for any over-time on any single delivery.

In the Post case the position taken by the United States was that the eight hours should consist of the time employed as carriers, and that they could not recover extra pay for other services within the postoffice performed by them in connection with the duties imposed on them by the postmaster. The court holds this position untenable, and that the carriers are entitled to extra pay for over eight hours' work under such circumstances.

MONETARY CONFERENCE.

A Change of Sentiment in Regard to the Matter in Europe. Washington, March 13.— By the Associated Press.] Senator Teller has prepared resolutions, which he will offer in the Senate at the next meeting, expressing the sense of the Senate as ng in favor of reconvening the International Monetary Conference at Brussels next summer. Teller says he is satisfied there has been a change of sentiment in Europe respecting the monetary question since the conference adjourned. It is plain to him that ence adjourned. It is plain to him that the delegates from the European countries began the conference under an erroneous impression as to the policy of the United States. Lately it has been made clear that the purpose of this country was not primarily to reap the benefits of the enhanced price of silver, and the recent contributions to the literature on the subject, notably the article published by Prof. Andrews, have made it appear that the value of the entire annual silver product is absolutely insignificant as compared with the value of the products of certain lines of manufactures and agriculture.

The Editors Still in It.

Washington, March 18 .- To a deputation of Congressmen, who waited on him today to make inquiries on the subject, President Cleveland said the report about his decision not to appoint newspaper men to office is erroneous. He had no intention of discriminating against newspaper men.

The Senate Adjourns Till Wednesday Washington, March 13 .- The Senate discussed for nearly an hour a resolution proposing to limit its action to ess not requiring the cooperation of the House, but, without reaching a decision, adjourned till Wednesday. No nominations were received by the Senate from the President today.

A Ghastly Discovery.

ALBUQUEROUE, March 18 .- A party prospecting in Old Spanish Copper Cañon came upon the skeletons of forty hree soldiers in Devil's Gulch. A com pany had been missing from Fort Mary ever since the Apache raid on Espanola, on September 9, 1874. It was supposed they had been massacred by the Indians, as not one had eyer returned. It seems, however, that all had died from drinking from a poisonous spring, where the skeletons had lain bleaching ever since. The skeletons of some of the men were still incased in their uniforms, and the guns were stacked as pany had been missing from Fort Mary forms, and the guns were stacked as they had left them. A lot of ammuni-tion and the skeletons of forty-five, horses constituted the ghastly discov-

THE BACKUS SUICIDE.

The Identity of the Man Fully Established at the Inquest.

The Coroner's inquest held yesterday morning on the remains of H. S. Backus, the man who committed sui cide on the Southern Pacific express Sunday evening, beyond establishing the positive identity of the deceased did but little to give a clew to the cause for the suicidal act. The first opinion of those who saw the man on the train that a demented condition prompted him to take his own life is still entertained.

to take his own life is still entertained. The witnesses examined testified substantially to the same effect as was narrated in The Times on Monday in regard to the man's actions before and at the time of the shooting.

The letters previously referred to, which were found upon the suicide's person, were opened and read to the jury. One of these, addressed to Mrs. Ratchell Holly. Farmington, Me., contained a will, whereby all of the property of the deceased was conveyed to the person, Mrs. Holly, who was designated as sister. The second was as follows:

Tombstone, March 1, 1891.

Dear Sister: When you get this I shall have passed to that bourne from which none return. I have $1800 in the Hibernia Bank in San Francisco, and about one hundred or one hundred and fifty head of cattle, branded IV on the left hip, on the ranch of I.C. Robinson. I have made my will today, leaving everything to you. I have never done anything wrong, but have been persecuted to my death.

Your affectionate brother.

H. S. BACKUS.

Several other letters were inclosed in the envelopes dated at Farmington, Me., and signed by Mrs. Holly and Reu-ben Hatch, the contents of which re-ferred to family affairs, but gave no in-timation that there was any trouble ex-isting hertween Backus and his relatives. isting between Backus and his relatives. One Fred Backus was, however, men-tioned in the correspondence as being in Seattle where he was about to secure a divorce from his wife.

The jury returned a verdict of death by a pistol shot, inflicted by the de-ceased's own hand, age and nationality unknown.

ADIES who go out shopping expect to do the best they can for their money; they are critical judges. We encourage lookers and tell you candidly we are here to show proper attention whether you wish to purchase or not. At is the one great feature of our business to slight no one; this brings to our dress goods counter more than double the patronage of a year ago. This is not newspaper talk; it is cold solid facts. Another thing we ask you to consider: We have no suits to sell you for $30, $40 and $50 each; we go more into the medium-priced goods from 50c to a dollar a yard, and have largely increased the assortment at these prices; then we have bettered the qualities. We can give you better values and better styles now at 50c a yard than we ever could before at 60c; we give you better goods for 60c and 65c than we ever did before for 75c. High-priced woolen novelties are a thing of the past. You can buy a handsome silk at a dollar a yard, and velvet for $1 to $1.50. and then have a cheaper suit than all-wool, high-class novelties, and the shrewd buyers are beginning to realize this. We are selling quantities of silk for a dollar a yard; they make up elegant; they give the best of wear and are the goods the largest number buy. Our dollar line of all-wool goods is double what it was a year ago. Fifty cents to a dollar a yard is where the masses look to for the goods they want. Changeable effects in silks and velvets. Bring your samples here to have them matched: you will receive the best attention. One hundred feet of dress goods selling room; the largest space in the city devoted to this purpose. Everything that is new and desirable from 25c to a dollar a yard. Now doing the largest dress goods trade in the city. Special-our 60 and 65c line of all-wool fancy dress goods. The new cloaks, new capes, new wraps of every kind, are now on display in the largest cloak department in this city. New wrappers and new tea gowns from $2 to $8; fine fitting and well made goods. We sell Royal Worcester corsets; they have no equal for fit or style. New Windsor ties and new belts; they go hand in hand with the new blouse waists. Selling kid gloves—only the best brands $1.25; all over the city they sell for $2 and $2.25.

The Demands Which The City Audito Refused to Pass-Mr. Platts' Janitress-Dr. Pepper and Super-

It was nearly 8 o'clock last night before the members of the Board of Education got together, and they were not all present at that time. Pepper had not yet put in an appearance, and Mr. Platt moved that Mr. Patty be made chrirman. President Pepper soon came in, and within a few minutes all the members were in their places. An unusually large number of lookers-on were in the gallery and lobby, and an air of expectancy seemed

The Insurance Committee.

Several applications for positions as teachers and janitors were referred their respective committees. A communication was then read from City Auditor Teale, stating that he had returned unapproved two demands in favor of Mrs. Kelly and J. E. Betsom for $40 each. His reason for this was that but one member of the Finance Committee had signed the demands and that he was unable to find that the board had at any time employed the persons named.

Mr. Platt stated that he had signed the demands with the expectation that they would be signed by the other memers of the committee.

Dr. Wills said that he looked over the matter, but that these janitors' names were not on the list. They had not been reported by the Janitors' Committee. Mr. Platt asked Dr. Wills if he.had any other names on his book that were approved, to which Dr. Wills replied that he had looked at the names as on President Pepper said that the stories referred to seemed to have emaated from that officer.

Mr. Friesner said that he was not re-

President Pepper said that he had lived in this city for five years, and that never until lately had any such stories appeared about him. Dr. Wills said that in view of the fact that newspaper reporters were present, it was unfair that such charges should be made as had been made against himself and Mr. Friesner. Mr. Platt. I don't care what the newspapers say about me. I have been

it is obvious and is here reprinted:

thereof, hereby propose that section 3 of article 11 of the Constitution of the Coroner Cates held an inquest on the remains of Ida Baertschiger, the little girl who was fatally burned at Palmdale Friday afternoon, yesterday morning, the verdict being "accidental death." The girl, while her parents were absent, attempted to take from the kitchen stove a kettle of boiling water, when the breeze, blowing the flames toward her, caused her clothing to catch fire. Before the flaming material could be smothered the little was badly burned. She died on the following day and the remains were brought to this city yesterday.

reach the top. But they started, and by dint of pluck and perseverance reached their destination in about four hours and a half from the foot of the trail. The rain came down in torrents, and the last three miles were tramped through snow ranging from one to three feet in depth. At the camp the snow lay from three to four feet on a level, while immense drifts, some of them fifteen feet high, had piled up around the buildings. The camp had been deserted at the beginning of the storm by those left in charge, and it was with considerable difficulty that means of communication were established between the different buildings. The sole occupant of the main building was an old hen, who, however, expressed her pleasure at meeting the visitors in no chicken-hearted style. But fires were soon started, and it was not long before all were seated around the dining-room table, where was served a sumptuous supper, prepared in the highest style of culinary art by Mr. Webster, who always proves him. self to be the right man in the right place. Later in the evening a pile of logs were blazing in the mammoth fireplace in the sitting-room a short distance above the main building, and amid its cheery embrace the party were soon led to forget all about snow and storm and whistling winds. Saturday night was bitter cold. Sunday the weather moderated. The atmosphere was of unusual clearness, so that a magnificent view of the valley and the ocean and of the Islands beyond was obtained. The sensation of standing in the midst of huge snowdrifts, with wintry winds blowing almost a gale, and looking down upon a land of perpetual summer, where oranges are ripening, flowers blooming and crops maturing, can be better imagined than described.

After a delightful stay on the summit, the return trip was made without adventure Monday morming, although several dangerous slides had formed in the canon near the camp, where it was necessary to proceed with the greatest caution. Old mountaineers say it is the heaviest fall of snow the near-by range ha for the first time.

If Bill Nye had accompanied a party of five Pasadenians to Camp Wilson Saturday afternoon, his mental feelings would certainly have found utterance in a statement to the effect that the rain drops were falling through the atmosphere and likewise through the air.

It was just noon when the party of venturesome spirits left Pasadena in one of Wiley & Greeley's conveyances for the foot of the new trail. It consisted of Councilman John S. The shooting is held by some to have been the grossest kind of breach of duty, and that this promiscuous shooting by officers should be checked by the conviction of one or more of manslaughter. But from the examination of Urton before the Justice it was shown by three witnesses that Pickford drew his re-volver and that Urton shot in self-defense. There is always a cry of too much or too little rain in Santa Barbara. The rain of Saturday morning, which increased the record in town from 22 to 23 inches, and raised the foothill gauges to nearly thirty inches, will do some damage to crops planted on low, level lands, and does not help the fields of hay and grain in the foothills. Happily this precipitation of moisture is unusual.

It would seem as if nature designed this particular bit of earth for artificial irrigation. The great, useless mountain range, extending back of the narrow strip of coast valley, would not be useless if people could comprehend the opportunities it offers, and intelligently avail themselves of them. Every gulch and cañon is a great natural reservoir, which would require but a slight expenditure to close up compared to the rich benefits to the lower lands to be derived from a water supply under control for summer irrigation. Suicide of the Second Wife of Albertus, the Word was received in/this city yester day to the effect that Mrs. J. Albertus second wife of the alleged "artist," had committed suicide at her home in Clay Center, Kan., on account of domestic trouble. It will be remembered that some time ago Albertus obtained a divorce from his first wife in this city, which that lady is now seeking to have annulled, upon the ground that it was obtained by fraud, he having taken "snap" judgment upon her while she was visiting friends in the East. He then left this city and when next heard of was married to his second wife, who was currently reported to be worth $150,000. Then came the news that the second Mrs. Albertus had fled to her home in Kansas, and instituted a suit for divorce, on the ground of cruelty, against her husband, but that he was endeavoring to obtain a reconciliation Failing in this, it was reported that Albertus had brought suit against his second had brought suit against his second wife's relatives for having alienated her affections. A number of stories are told of his having persecuted his second wife in order to obtain her property, until she was compelled to obtain an injunction to restrain him from interfering with her or intrading himself fering with her, or intruding himself

The suit instituted by Albertus's first wife will, in all probability, be heard on Tuesday next, the 31st inst., when some sensational developments may be confidently expected.

Wong Fong was up before Justice Austin yesterday on a charge of battery, preferred by one Frederick Miller. According to the story of the complaining witness, Miller, and a friend started out to see Chinatown Sunday evening. As the former was ignorant of the ways of the heathen and their games of chance, he intrusted $1 to his 'friend' to purchase for him a lottery ticket. His companion went into the shop kept by Fong and secured the desired bit of paper inscribed with the cabalistic characters. The two then went out, and, later in the evening, so Miller characters. The two then went out, and, later in the evening, so Miller stated, they found that the ticket was bogus. Returning to Fong's honsy Miller knocked at the door, but was refused admittance. Persisting in his efforts to gain an entrance enraged the Chinaman, who made a detour of the building from a rear door and assaulted Miller at the front entrance, telling him to go away. Fong will be sentenced today.

evening. He entered a plea of no guilty of violating the ordinance, when brought before Justice Austin yester-day, and will be tried on Wednesday.

J. M. Rodgers felt sick and took a little quinine and whisky Sunday evening, which went to his head. At least that was what he told Justice Austin yester day, when he appeared on a charge of being drunk. The arresting officer found him asleep on a lounge in a Spring street livery stable and took him to the station. Considering the fact that no disturbance had been created, Rogers was let off with a fine of $1, and a parting injunction to be careful in the future.

Patrick Murphy was not in the habit of drinking, but having a severe cold took several drinks of whisky to keep out the chill of the Sunday air. Jus-tice Austin taxed him $2 for his pains, in default of which payment he was sent to the big ceil to nurse his complaint for two days.

While the football game at Athletic Park was in progress Saturday afternoon, a sneak thief got away with an overcoat belonging to George Beebe. The matter was reported to the police, and Sunday afternoon Mr. Meyer, who and Sunday afternoon Mr. Meyer, who keeps a second-hand store on Upper Main street, telephoned the station that he had just purchased a coat answering the description. The property was identified by the owner, and, upon the clew furnished by Meyers, Detectives Auole and Benson soon ferreted out a young "hooo" named William Johnson, who sold the coat to Meyer. Johnson was arrested and convicted of petty larceny, and will be given his sentence today by Justice Austin.

Several common, chronic drunks appeared, according to their usual Mon peared, according to their usual Mon-day morning custom, in the Police Court yesterday, receiving sentences of from one to five days' each. Justice Seamans fined W. H. Wood-ham $3 yesterday for obstructing the

A Lively Runaway,

At a few minutes past noon yesterterday a horse, attached to a light spring wagon and standing on Spring near the corner of Court street, took fright from some unknown cause and started on the rampage. He got te the middle of the street, where he began turning round and round, tipping the vehicle over and wrenching himself loose from it. Then, with only a porloose from it. Then, with only a por-tion of the shafts hanging to him, he made for the sidewalk and struck it just in frent of Orr & Sutch's parlors, where he slipped on the pavement and fell, cutting a deep gash in his leg. Re-covering himself in an instant he dashed directly down the sidewalk to-ward Temple street, crossed at that street and continued his flight, still on the sidewalk, to Arcadia street, where he was caught. Considering the crowded condition of the streets at that he was caught. Considering the crowded condition of the streets at that hour it is a wonder that no one was

The City Clerk then read quite a lengthy communication from himself showing how by, a peculiar combination of circumstances, there are at present existing several tax sale certificates. against pieces of property on Washington street, between Main and Figueroa. He believed that there was no for retaining them, and that it would be just to cancel them, and, in explanation, said that a number of owners of property had been in his office and called his attention to the fact that they could not get clear abstracts of title when these certificates existed as liens against the property. It was finally moved that the Street Superintendent be instructed to cancel these

At this point the Council took a reess for a few minutes for the purpose of inspecting a fender to be attached to the end of an electric or cable railway car. Joseph P. The report of the City Engineer was taken up, and the ordinance for the construction of a six-foot cement sidewalk on a part of the north side of Eleventh street was passed under suspension of the rules. In the matter of the grade of Figueroa street he stated that the grade previously established by En-gineer Eaton was, he believed, a better one than that at present on that street, He could see no special reason, outside of saving a cut on the west side of the street, for having that street three feet

SECOND STREET PAVEMENT.

The protest against the acceptance of the Second street pavement was read by the clerk, and the opinion presented by the City Attorney in regard to the matter was next read. It was as fol-

You have referred to me the report the committee consisting of the Superintendent of Streets, City Engineer and Soard of Public Works, in reference to the acceptance of the paving and sidewalking of Second street. You have not indicated for what purpose the matter has been referred to me, but I suppose it is to ascertain what subsequent steps will be necessary in the matter. The property-owners having appealed from the action of the Street Superintendent, the matter again comes up as in the original instance, with the exception, that while in the first place the acceptance of the Street Superintendent if not appealed from would have been final, it is now also necessary that the streets should be accepted by the City Council. I believe that the Street Superintendent should file a formal acceptance of the same, after which you should order him to make a new warrant. I am of the opinion that the property-owners will have the same rights to again appeal to the City Council within thirty days from the date of the warrant, as they had originally; and in case the City Council, upon this appeal, should refuse to set aside its acceptance, as well as that of the Superintendent of Streets, the acceptance would then become final.

Mr. Murphy, representing the protesting property-owners then appeared the committee consisting of the Superin-tendent of Streets, City Engineer and Board

Mr. Murphy, representing the protesting property-owners, then appeared before the Council. In behalf of those whom he represented he stated that the work had not been done in accordance with the contract, and that they proposed to prove that it had not. He understood that the committee which and examined the work had not done so very thoroughly. This, however, as far as he was concerned, was hearsay. Some of the parts of the work had been patched up, but was there any warrant that the remainder was in proper condition. The Necond extrest people were

Councilman Campbell moved that the report be adopted, and said in explanation, that since it had been signed by the City Engineer, and other members of the committee the proper thing for the Council to do would be to accept it.

Councilman Nickell said that until it was proven that the materials in the street were according to contract he was unwilling to vote for its accept-

Councilman Rhodes said that the committee had not been authorized to have made a thorough analysis of pieces of the work, but from the looks of the foundation it was of good material. He did not know what the proportions of the materials used were, but he had favored an analysis from the first. As far as he was concerned, in regard to the acceptance of the work, the Street Superintendent and the City Engineer, who were both supposed to be experts in such matters, were with the committee at the time of the inspec-

Councilman Munson said he thought that the affair should be got into shape to take action on. Judge Lamme, who represented the contractor's side of the case, next contractor's side of the case, next spoke. He said he agreed with Mr. Munson, that the matter should be put in shape to take action on. He did not wish to lecture the Council on what their duties were. He believed they were men of intelligence. As for the Street Superintendent and the City Engineer, they were the officers of the law, sworn to do their duty. He believed they were entirely honest in making their report about the condition of the street. Their capability for their work could not be called in questions. their work could not be called in ques He did not believe they wer imps." He wanted to know of th "chumps." He wanted to know of the Council whose judgment they would take in the matter, whether it should be that of these sworn officers of the law, or that of persons without author He asked that the Council should accept the work, and then the matter would be in shape so that if the people wanted to protest they could do so. He wanted to know why it was that the protesting property-owners did not make a complaint of the matter before the Superintendent of Streets should be instructed to lay cobble stones at the intersection of Bellevue avenue and Douglas street, was referred to the Board of Public Works. Councilman Innes also moved that where cement pavements are being constructed the material should be tested at the expense of the contractor.

Councilman Nickell favored this metion, and said that a large part of the pavements of the city were not what they should be. It was high time something should be done. He could go onto Spring street at the present time and find work that looked as though made of brea.

Councilman Rhodes said be thought that this extra expense ought not to be forced on the contractor.

Councilman Munson favored such action, and moved that it be referred to the Board of Public Works.

Councilman Pessell said he believed

Trized him to say at the meeting of the protesting property-owners, held last Thursday evening, that Mr. Rigby was entirely satisfied with the work. Mr. Rigby had requested him to make the same statement before the Council; Rigby had requested him to make the same statement before the Council; Mr. Rigby did not wish to be involved in any litigation over the matter.

Judge Lamme again spoke. He said that if the contractor was entitled to his money he was losing from $10 to $12 per day, and its payment ought not to be delayed. He thought the matter should be cut off right there, and if the people wanted to protest they still the people wanted to protest they still had thirty days to do it in. Mr. Murphy said he thought a delay of a day or two would not result in serious damage to the contractor.

It was finally moved that when the Council adjourned, it should do so to Wednesday at 2 p.m., and on Councilman Rhodes' motion, it was ordered that the matter of the report be post-poned till that time.

Councilman Nickell moved that the higher on the west side. This was laid Council should employ an analytical chemist to make an analysis of samples of the pavement. Some one wanted to know of the City Engineer if he could not analyze the samples himself. He said he could not do it on account of not having the facilities for such work. He said that a thorough analysis would require all of one day at least, and recommended that the Council should postpone the matter till later than Wednesday. The motion to adjourn till Wednes day, was then reconsidered, and it was moved that when the Council adjourn, ii should do so till Friday instead of Wednesday, and it was also carried that an analytical chemist should be employed to examine the work.

CHANGED THE CONTRACT. A petition was received from George Tuttle, who has the contract for disposing of dead animals. The contract specifies that the dead animals "shall be disposed of by cremation in such manner," etc. The word "in" in this contract was so written as to look like "or," and the contract was signed, it was claimed, with that understanding.
Mr. Tuttle asked to be relieved from the contract, but was finally permitted to so change it as to allow him to dispose of dead animals taken out of town

MISCELLANEOUS. The City Attorney's report was pre sented, and action taken on the various recommendations. The matter of the improvement of Twenty-eighth street was referred to to Councilman Pessell. The matter of an assistant building inspector was taken up and resulted in causing about the same number of amendments as when considered for the two weeks previous. Finally, however, James E. Cusick was elected to the position, and the ordinance was passed creating the

The Supreme Court, however, says that the contrary doctrine seems to be firmly established in this State (Magee vs. N. P. R. R. hailed all along the line, not more for his well-known efficiency than for his announced intention to make no changes, though he has the appointing power over all other officials. Only one change was made in the auditing department in the five years of his control, and that one was a voluntary resignation. He kept the same force during the entire reorganization and operated the department, through consolidations and systematizing of work, at a saving of $80,000 a year, while traffic has increased 48.29 per cent. President Reinhart is an ardent advocate of elevated roads in Chicago. He believes the result aimed at by the City Council was inevitable, and that the sooner railroads elevate their tracks within the city limits of Chicago the better it will be for them. In four days' work he formulated a plan for refunding $183,000,000 of Atchison bonds of twenty or more different issues, of different dates of expiration and of different rates of interest. The refunding was completed exactly as proposed and without the spending of a cent in commissions to bankers. Naturally, after this evidence of the ability of one road to handle such a vast sum, President Reinhart apprehends the twenty-one terminal roads in Chicago will have little difficulty in raising the money necessary to elevate their tracks. For twenty-one years, since he was 16 years old, he has been constantly in railroad service. Twelve years of this time he spent in the operating and traffic de-partments. He has trodden every rung of the ladder from office boy to the president of the largest railroad corporation in the world.

SNOW AT LONG RANGE FOR TOURISTS. The tourist who spends the next ten days in Southern California is to be congratulated, for he can see some of the gratulated, for he can see some of the rarest scenery on earth. Nature has been retouching the landscape within the last week, and the spotless mantle of snow with which the mountain ranges are now covered is to Southern California scenery what elaborate stage effects are to the theater. Only about once in a dozen years are Southern Californians treated to the glorious sight which now greets the beholder as his gaze sweeps over the blooming valleys and thence to a mountain-bound horizon, where the snow wraith is sifting her white clouds over the granite ledges of the highest peaks. It is a scene with which one is not satisfied by a single look, and again and again the eye roves from peak to peak, studying the detail of this grand panorama. But all its beauty is not to be seen from one point. It is worth a journey of many miles to view from different vantage grounds the snow-crowned mountains of the San Bernardino range. Visitors from the frozen East will have other scenes of warmer tints to gratify and enrapture them. At the State Citrus Fair, to be held at Col-ton, will be gathered in various artistic forms the products of this tropical land, and in traveling to and from the fair they will have an opportunity to see the flower-bestrewn valleys. Another reason for congratulating our visitors, and indeed all Southern California, is that the transportation lines have with commendable enterprise made reduced rates, which will enable all to view both snowy peaks and golden heaps of oranges, flowers galore and a luxuriance of tropical verdure.

California railways, General Manager Wade of the California Southern, fur-nishes the following suggestive comparisons: Cost per train mile for fuel on the California Southern. 24 cents; on the Atchison line in Kansas, 7 cents; on the Wabash in Illinois, 4 cents; cost of coal per ton, California Southern, $7.75; Atchison in Kansas, $1.58; Wabash in Illinois, 91.6 cents. The cost of labor in California, Mr. Wade says, is 30 per cent. more than in Illinois. A legislative railway tariff for California, based on rates in Kansas in 1881 a large nugget was found, at Chipp's Flats, in the Rainbow mine. One account says that it weighed 1902 ounces, another that it weighed but 1402. This fatter account is probably correct, as it was sold by H. H. Noble of San Francisco to a London firm for $22,000 even.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

A Matter Out of the Ordinary Routine Discussed.

Quite a Breeze Raised Over the Appoint ment of Mrs. Hart as Custodian of the World's Fair Exhibit.

The Historical Society of Southern California held a somewhat breezy session last night in Judge Austin's courtroom. The members were out in larger force than usual, and, after some routine business, a paper was read by H. D. Barrows, made up of interesting reminiscences of the historic old Bell Block, a two-story adobe built about 1845, on the corner of Aliso and Los Angeles streets, and recently torn down to make way for a brick block. His reminiscences comprised a series of events and episodes of the most entertaining character, and Mr. Barrows was requested to prepare another paper on the history of the Plaza for the edification of the members.

Following this Prof. Guinn read ex tracts from the personal journal of Dr. John Griffin, written in January, 1847, and narrating events of the most thrilling incidents—battle scenes between the Mexicans and Californians, It was noted that most of the men who met death were killed by the accidental discharge of guns. °

The following new members were duly elected by ballot: Mrs. Mary J. Parker, Miss Anna C. Murphy, Frank J. Polley of Pasadena, R. H. Hewitt, Nathan F. Smith of Santa Monica, George Roughton, F. R. Willis and Dr. J. W. Hunt.

George H. Stewart, W. W. Robinson and P. W. Dooner applied for membership and their names will be balloted on at the next meeting.

Suitable resolutions were passed in memory of the late Col. Griffin and Alhert F. Kercheval. When at length new business was called for Gen. Mansfield was at once upon his feet, and announced that to his utter amazement he noticed on taking up the morning Times that the society had decided to send off its curios by some party to Chicago to the World's Fair, and, as a member, he demanded to know what it meant. The president, Maj. E. W. Jones, informed him that the board of directors had authorized a portion of the curios to be so sent. Upon being again questioned he also explained that their safe return was guaranteed and all expenses paid. The General pressed his investigation still closer, and vigorously protested against sending the precious curios to Chicago by a party alleged to have charge of the historical exhibit, not a member of the society and comparatively unknown, having no such standing in the commu-

A long and earnest discussion pro and con followed. Mrs. Jeanne C. Carr was present and questioned very much the abvisability of sending any exhibit under the nam of the society.

Miss Kelso, who opposed sending the exhibit, but was overruled by a majority of the board, gave her reasons in a very reasonable way. The main point to be considered is that the principal thing the society is sending is its name.

The exhibit will be singled out at once by specialists, and it is of the sum of the society in the series of the most core. utmost importance that the most competent people should be selected to represent the society. Misrepresentation on the most vital part of any State—her history—is fatal. The curios themselves are of the smallest consequence: the few people interested consequence; the few people interested in the history of Southern California will be those of all others before whom we wish to stand right. The society goes officially if by no more than a sign.

At 10 o'clock Gen. Mansfield still had the floor, and was protesting as yehemently as ever, and it is quite likely that the matter may be reconsidered.

Mrs. Hart, the custodian, is not a regular member of the society, but simply a corresponding member, and has no a corresponding member, and has no voice in its business affairs. A number of the members strongly object to hav-ing the society represented by one who, they say, has so little technical knowledge of the history of California.

Scenes in the South.

(New York Times.)

"When I was South last winter," told a woman a day or two ago, "I took a glass of eggnog every day, which I fixed myself at the luncheon table. One day my colored waiter, who had watched the operation curiously, asked me what it was. I told him, and offered him some. 'No, thank you, misses,' he said; 'I allers takes my eggs fried and my whisky barefoot.' Another of my darky friends down there was constantly bemoaning his sad fate that he was almost gone with rheumatism. Every morning he would limp into my room, groaning and grunting, and tell me he was just about to cross the dark 'ribber' to the shining [New York Times.] grunting, and tell me he was just about to cross the dark 'ribber' to the shining shore, where his old Sukey awaited him. One day, when his condition seemed almost desperate, my husband told him to go in the next room, where he would find some 'medicine' in a certain bottle, which he thought would limber him up a little. He obeyed with promptness and came back after a little while, his lameness gone, and with the announcement that he never felt better in his life. When Mr. R. referred to Sukey and the shining shore, the old fellow turned terard him and half whispered, in a candential way: 'I tell you what, Massa R., dat 'scurzion is postponed.'"

AND THIS IS THE HOW OF IT.

You Can See for Yourself That the "Times" Offer Is Right. One of the questions most frequently asked by those interested in the encyclopedia offer of THE TIMES is: "How can you furnish a work of which the standard price is $8 per volume for $2 a volume?" The query suggests that they are suspicious, fearing that there must be some "catch" to the proposi-tion, or that the paper and workmanship must be of an inferior quality, or that the books are much smaller than the volumes of the Edinburgh editon.

On page 3 of this paper is a picture representing one of the twenty-five volumes which make up a full set of the Encyclopedia Britannica which The TIMES is offering to its readers. The illustration is of the exact size of the book it represents, and the book is the same size as the original Edinburgh. same size as the original Edinburgh edition. In fact, it is larger, in that there are over one hundred pages of new matter in each number of The Times' encyclopedia, bringing all the subjects embraced in each volume up subjects embraced in each volume up to the present time. This means that the modernized edition covers fifteen more years than the Edinburgh edition more years than the Edinburgh edition. There are many persons who posses the original work that have purchased the new edition because of the additions. "It is modern," they say.

The Edinburgh edition costs $200; the edition offered by The Times at 10 cents a day costs less than one-quarter of $200, but that does not signify that it is a cheap work, poor in quality and it is a cheap work, poor in quality and inferior in workmanship.

In the first place The Times' encyclopedia is mechanically an American product. It is manufactured by machinery equipped with all the time-sav-ing and material-saving accessories which American ingenuity and invent-ive genius can devise. In ten hours' work over six thousand complete volumes are turned out by the publishing house ready for the reader. Ten books, averaging over one thousand pages each, printed, bound, with maps and illustrations, and finished, gold leaf and all, every minute, is one factor which enables THE TIMES to offer a complete set of the Encyclopedia Britannica on the terms given in its proposition. It will require little time and less exertion to satisfy yourself regarding the quality of these books.

At No. 347 South Spring street are reading-rooms opened by The Times for the purpose of giving you an opportunity of investigating the offer it makes you. These rooms are conveniently located. You will be welcome and find chairs tables, books, and attendants at your disposal. Come in at any time, your disposal. Come in at any time, stay as long as you please, only satisfy yourself that in every respect the Encyclopedia Britannica is just what The Times says it is. It will certainly be worth your while to spend a few minutes of your extra leisure looking into the proposition which offers you the premier of reference libraries at 10 cents a day. cents a day.

Silpping Street Car.

An electrical journal asks whether some one cannot discover a way to prevent the silpping of street car wheels and thus remove a factor of danger in the operation of street cars, especially in winter. The cold and snowy rails are responsible for many of the collisions and other casualties which occur during the winter season. In Scranton, Pa., recently, there was a sort of epidemic recently, there was a sort of epidemic of collisions for a few days, chargeable entirely to this cause. The motormen claim that the custom of sprinkling salt on the rails to melt the snow and ice thereon is a good one to that extent, but a bad one in that when the salt becomes crushed and pulverized it make the rails as slippery as before. In the meantime there is a chance of a fortune for the inventor who has the luck to hit on the right remedy.

East Whittier!

A good many lots have been sold in East Whittier in the last 30 days.

All are to be improved. The acreage of lemons and oranges, mostly lemons, put out in the next sixty days will run up into the hundreds.

We have, without question, the finest location and soil for lemons of any locality in Southern California, Cahuenga not excepted, as we have plenty of water, while they have not.

We Have Some Fine 10-acre Tracts

Still on sale, though they are going rapidly and choice will soon be limited. Come out during February and make your selection and be ready for March putting in of trees. A lemon orchard started now will in five years produce a splendid income. There is no danger of over-production of lemons. California can not, as yet, supply her own demand—no danger of having to give them away during your lifetime.

Farmers! Town People! House-lot Owners!

Raise Your Own Vegetables!

Here is the Most Practical and Attrative Offer Ever Made by a Newspaper to Its Patrons!

Seeds Given Away!

For the next thirty days we will give, FREE, with each yearly subscription to the SATURDAY TIMES AND WEEKLY MIRROR and $1.50, 12 packages, or six y cents worth of a Rivenset Edge, but up by the well-known and reliable Los Angeles seedhouse of The Germain Fruit Company. The same offer is made to all new threemonths mail subscribers to the Daily Times paying $2.25 in advance, and to all old subscribers renewing on the same terms.

This unique offer embraces every variety of seeds: Sweet Corn. Melons, Pumpkins, Squashes, Peas, Beans, all kinds of Vegetables, etc., etc. We are enabled to make this most generous offer by reason of having purchased the seeds in immense job-lot quantities. We are building for the future, and have determined to greatly extend the already large circulation of our weekly edition, and stand this heavy expense, not for love or charity's sake, but as a matter of business, to attract a permanent patronage.

The Paper Better Than Ever!

A department particularly adapted to the peculiar character of our Southern California agricultural and horticultural interests, carefully prepared by a practical and educated farmer, will, in the future, be a valuable feature of the Saturbay 4 IMES AND WEKKLY MIRROR, and will also appear in the daily issue each Saturday. A Southern California News Page is also published weekly. These features, with the variety, reliability and general excellence of the other departments, render this paper infinitely superior as a general family newspaper to any weekly publication in the Southwest.

How to Obtain the Seeds.

Accompany your remittance and order for the paper with a plainly written list of the number of packages of each kind of seed you desire, remembering that twelve packages is the limit with a single order. For postage and packing we cannot pay. It will cost you in cents extra, which is to be added to the amount of your remittance.

If you are already a subscriber, and have paid for some time in advance, you can obtain the seeds by sending the paper to a friend in the East, or elsewhere, for a year, and have the seeds sent to you; or you can have your own subscription to the Weekly extended for a year, or for three months to the Dally Times, as the case may be, and obtain the seeds. Remit by money order, postal note or draft. 81.30 for the weekly, and 10 cents for postage and packing; or, if you wish the daily for 3 months, send 82.25 and 10 cents, when the paper and seeds will be sent to your address. If the paper is delivered by carrier, the price for the 8 months with the seeds, will be $1.65.

FORAGE PLANT SEEDS.

In addition to the regular seeds kept by the seed houses, we are able to supply a quantity of new Forage-Plant Seeds, which are highly recommended: also a new variety of SUGAR EEET SEED. Following is a detailed description of each variety of the storage-plant seeds:

Kaffle Cora—Branches from the top joints. Every part of the plant, stalk included, cures into excellent fodder and is good for green feed at all stages of its growth. Stands heat and drought well. Sow in drills a feet apart or broadcast at the rate of 10 pounds per acre.

In rows 4 feet apart, 18 inches apart in the rows, five or six seeds in each hill, and cultivate same as corn.

An Indispensable Hand-book!

The New Standard Atlas of the World! A quarto volume of nearly 200 pages, containing over 100 maps of all the Countries in the World, and all the States and Territories and many of the Principal Cities of the United States. Most of these maps are the full size of the page.

SOME OF THE CONTENTS. Numerous diagrams and tables afford graphic instruction in facts relating to area and population of the world; Area of States and Territories: Production of Minerals and Gereals in Various Parts of the World; Comparative Facts about Rivers and Mountains; Elucidation of the Solar System: Weights and Measures; Religious and Other Facts and Figures, all presented in a pleasing and comprehensive shape. There is much well-written historical and descriptive matter touching all portions of the globe, attractive in style and correct in particulars. Then there is also a long list of Discoveries. Explorations and Important Events, arranged chronologically from the year 1500 to the present time. One page of the Atlas is devoted to a plate showing the flags of all nations, printed in the true colors of the originals.

Style of the Book. The binding is good, the paper is heavy, the printing is large and clear. The maps and diagrams are in colors to better distinguish boundary lines and the various divisions; and the whole makes one of the most attractive and best arranged books of its kind ever published.

HOW TO GET THE ATLAS. Subscribers may secure the Standard Atlas on the following unequaled terms, which cannot be approached by the average bookseller:

A volume will be given to those who pay $4.55 for a three-months' subscription to the DAILY TIMES; or those who pay $10.20 for a year's subscription to the DAILY TIMES; or those who pay $10.20 for a year's subscription to the DAILY TIMES (the regular price.) will be presented with an Atlas outright. To those who subscribe for the SATURDAY TIMES AND WERELY MIRROR and pay $3.45, an Atlas will be given. The usual retail price of the Standard Atlas is $6.00. Thus, under the above offer, subscribers secure the volume for much less than publisher's price, and the paper besides. Where the Daily is sent by mail the yearly subscription price is $9.00 instead of $10.20.

NEW YORK, March 13 .-- The week opened with comparative quiet in Wall street. The only important fluctuations were in intrials, which still absorb the bulk of speculative interest. The market for rail-way shares, especially Western stocks, was, on the whole, somewhat firmer, chiefly because of advices from Chicago from promi-nent railway officials that the backbone of nent railway officials that the backbone of the strike was broken. Sugar, after selling up from 105% to 106%, gave way suddenly under a perfect flood of sales, declined to 103%, and after selling up to 104% again gave way to 102%. General Electric, on heavy purchases, sold up from 100 to 104%, and ended, with a net gain of 1%, at 102%.
